Peace Liard Regional Arts Council

The Peace Liard Regional Arts Council serves six communities in Northeastern British Columbia; Chetwynd, Dawson Creek, Fort St. John, Fort Nelson, Hudson's Hope and Tumbler Ridge. The PLRAC meets five times per year, rotating meeting locations throughout member communities to mentor, exchange information, educate and provide support.

The PLRAC continues to support professional development of artists, arts boards, directors, volunteers and administrators by providing leadership and encouragement.

The Regional Juried Art Exhibit is the longest running program of the PLRAC, existing before the formation of the PLRAC as a society. This event is held each year in a different member community. The 2010 RJAE was hosted by the Chetwynd Community Arts Council.
