FIRST OVERTURE
Concert Here Marked Success: If The Chanticleers are any indication of the attractions offered during the coming season in Fort St John, many who failed to purchase tickets for the series are going to be disappointed. A fairly good crowd heard the concert Saturday night. They enjoyed first a group of classical selections, then a delightful Gilbert and Sullivan sketch in song and finally a group of Broadway hits brought the evening to a successful conclusion. Mrs W D Bowes convened the social hour in the staff room following the concert. Mrs Bowes hopes to have included the entire season's ticket membership in these affairs by the time the final concert has been presented - so that all may have the opportunity of meeting at least one group of artists.
