What is Bluey Day?

Bluey Day is about people coming together to help support those people in our community who are battling cancer.

Bluey Day began in Australia where police, ambulance, and fire fighters joined together to make a difference. These officers in Blue wanted to make a difference in their community.

This year Fort St. John proudly hosts its 10th Annual Bluey Day.

How Bluey Day Works

Volunteers agree to have their head shaved and to raise a minimum of $500. (Most people collect over $2000) Money is raised by collecting sponsorship from friends, family, neighbours, employers, work colleagues, etc.

On May 31 everyone meets for the day and the fun begins. Not only is Bluey Day a day about cancer it's a day to celebrate our survivors, fighters, and our future.

2007 Bluey Day also included the creation of a quilt that was later auctioned for $3200 for equipment to fight breast cancer! Way to go Fort St. John!

This is the year to be involved.

It's About the Health of our Community!

We are committed to raising $1.3 Million for a CT Scanner
