The old nursery

"Nanny" Mead is seen in the nursery at the old Providence Hospital with Rene Wolfe, Maureen Frocklage and Ronnie Wolfe. "Nanny" was truly popular with all her little charges in the crowded original hospital.

SAWING UP WOOD for the hospital back in 1934 were Joe Richter and his four sons - Al, Tony, Joe and Vince – along with Rod Kisling and one other man. Volunteers went from home to home asking for donations of wood for the hospital and then a "bee" was held to saw it.
