Fort St. John museum worker Rose Dutka shows a Dawson Creek youngster how a stereoscope works. Over 140 students from Central Middle School visited the North Peace Museum last week as part of their Social Studies unit on early man. At the museum, they looked at dinosaur footprints and fossils. And while here, they also visited the Charlie Lake caves.

Heritage Week activities

The North Peace Historical Society has finalized plans for Heritage Week, Feb. 20-25, at the Museum.

On Monday, Feb. 20: From 2-4 p.m. there will be a Native Display with demonstrations by Mary Bouchier.

Wednesday, Feb. 22: From 11 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. it's Senior Citizens Day. Seniors are admitted free and there will be refreshments. The Old Time Fiddlers will be entertaining.

Friday, Feb. 24: From 2-6 p.m. there will be a Multicultural Tea with ethnic musical entertainment. There will also be a table of homemade breads for sale. A small admission fee includes a visit through the Museum and a taste of ethnic baking.

Saturday, Feb. 25: 11 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. This is the last day for our travelling exhibit on the Millennium of Christianity in the Ukraine. An added feature will be a demonstration of Ukrainian Easter Egg (Pysanka) decorating by Bernice Smith from 2-4 p.m.

There will be a small admission fee to visit the Museum charged each day. Those with memberships will be admitted free.

The Annual General Meeting of the North Peace Historical Society will be held Feb. 15 at the Senior Citizen's Hall, 10908-100 street at 6 p.m. Dinner tickets may be obtained from the Museum or from members. Election of officers will take place and the guest speaker is Mary Humphries.

Monthly meetings take place at the Artspace on the second Monday of the month at 7:30 p.m.

The Museum is located at 9323-100 street and is open from 11 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. from Monday to Saturday.

The telephone number is 787-0430.
