

A magnificent showcase for all British Columbians...

The B.C. Pavilion
at EXPO 86

We'll come to you, too.

Expo 86 is a province-wide event—and the B.C. Pavilion has plans to take the spirit and messages of the fair throughout B.C. A specially designed Mobile Pavilion capable of mounting audio-visual presentations and exhibits will be on the road in the months before the fair, and during the Expo period... taking the Pavilion story to everyone and forming a focal point for community events.

A special focus to the messages of the B.C. Pavilion will be given to students of all ages through a Schools Programme beginning in September 1985. This programme will ensure that our young people have the opportunity to examine the significance of this once-in-a-lifetime event to the B.C. of both today and tomorrow.

It's our show.

"Never again in this century... in this country... in this province... will there be an international event like Expo 86. It is truly our show, our opportunity to set an indelible imprint on the world.

The B.C. Pavilion will be the major stage for our presentation—with our land, our people and our achievements the featured performers. Together, we will make a statement the world will remember."

Premier of British Columbia*
