

River rats organize

MAR 10, 1966

A loosely organized group in the city gathered with boating enthusiasts from all over the west in the Park Hotel on Saturday evening.

Representatives came from Calgary, Edmonton, Grande Prairie, Peace River, Sexsmith, Beaverlodge, Chetwynd, Fort St John, Taylor and Dawson Creek.

Calling themselves the "River Rats" the group enjoyed an evening of films from various members and camaraderie.

The meeting took up a collection and raised $300 for the building of boat launching facilities at the Taylor Peace River bridge. A telegram was sent to Stan Carnell, MLA to get him to gain the co-operation of the Department of Recreation and Parks on the project so that something can be forthcoming.
