Guys and Dolls an entertaining story for all

ALEISHA HENDRY

North Peace Secondary School's production of Guys and Dolls showcases just how much talent there is in this town.

There was a lot of music and lines to learn for this show, from the dance routines to the accents, and their hard work pays off.

The show is fun, and it's obvious the actors are enjoying themselves as well.

A shoutout has to be given to Iris Wenger, who plays Sarah Brown. She had to take over the role the week of opening night and learn the entire show in that time, and she did it. Huge praise to her for taking on such a daunting task.

If you didn't make it out to Guys and Dolls last week, you have another chance to support the show on Dec. 8, 9 and 10 at the North Peace Cultural Centre.

Dr. Kearney Middle School takes us 'Into The Woods'

Bronwyn Scott

FORT ST. JOHN — Cinderella, Jack and the Beanstalk, witches, wolves and mysterious potions are taking the stage tomorrow night in Dr. Kearney Middle School's production of Into the Woods Jr.

The story wraps all the fairy tales that you know and love together to tell the tale of a baker and his wife who desperately want a child, but can't have one.

"Right now we can't, because a curse was laid on the baker," explained Grade 9 student Lacey Keough, who plays the baker's wife.

The couple enters into a deal with a witch in order to get what they want.

"We have to do this little mission in the forest, and he's starting to push me away because he's like, 'I'm a man, I can do this.' So I'm trying to help him fulfill the mission," she said.

Keough feels mostly ready for opening night, but has a few of those nervous stage fright jitters. Getting into character sometimes feels silly, she says, but the end result is worth it.

"It's almost a little bit embarrassing when you get full in character, it's almost a social thing you've got to get over, because you're like, 'Oh what if they're looking at me right now, because I'm actually in character? What if they're making fun of me?'"

"But if everyone's in character, it turns out really good, because you can't just kind of half do your job, you've got to make it look realistic," she said.

The middle school students, in Grade 8 and 9, have been working hard on the play for four months, putting in approximately 250 hours a piece of extracurricular time, according to Katie Matthews, director and drama teacher at the school.

"Everyone in the class gets a part, and then from there we do after school rehearsals... so I do that voluntarily and the kids do that voluntarily as well," she said.

Band students, under the direction of teacher Sandra Gunn, perform the music.

"Our band actually plays all of our music, we don't use a CD," Matthews said.

"We work as a team, Sandra and I, to make sure that as many kids are involved as possible, because of course we both believe that the arts are super important in schools, and we want to foster a lifelong love of music and theatre."

After all those rehearsal hours, the students are ready.

"They've been ready for a while now," Matthews said.

"They're excited, they're amped up to go, they know what they're doing... I'm pretty proud of them."

Into the Woods Jr. will take the stage at the North Peace Cultural Centre on Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Tickets, available at the cultural centre box office, are $15 for adults, $13 for seniors and students, and $11 for children.

All money raised goes towards putting on next year's musical.

A grand adventure in The Phantom Tollbooth Jr.

Bronwyn Scott
Staff Writer

FORT ST. JOHN — Bert Bowes Middle School students are gearing up for their public performance of The Phantom Tollbooth Jr. on Friday night at the North Peace Cultural Centre.

The 1961 adventure novel by Norton Juster is a “super fun” story about a boy who is bored of everything in his life, and something magical happens to give him a fresh perspective on life, according to Irene Hayward, the play’s director.

“His room is transformed, he gets a car, and tollbooth that take him through some magical lands,” she explained.

“He goes to a land of numbers, and a land of letters. He goes on all sorts of different adventures. He has to save princesses and fight off demons, and he learns a very important lesson: that ‘what you can do is often simply a matter of what you will do,’ so if you’re willing try, you can do amazing things, is the moral of our story.”

The Grade 7, 8, 9 and 10 students – there are a few high school kids helping out – overcame their nerves and jitters by performing for students from across the region on Thursday.

“That moment of going on stage for the first time and having about 200 people from their own school watching them is probably the hardest thing they go through,” Hayward said.

Grade 9 student Jordan Bourgeois plays the lead character Milo.

“I’m 10, pretty much nothing is exciting, nothing interests me until this phantom tollbooth takes me on an adventure to teach me that everything has meaning,” she said in interview with the Alaska Highwa News.

“Then I learn that everything is cool.”

It’s her first lead role, and so far she’s loved the experience of practicing and rehearsing with her peers.

“It’s been so much fun, after a while we all become like a little family,” she said.

Grade 7 student Morgan Wigglesworth, who plays a handful of roles, including a vendor, and an advisor to the king, has also enjoyed every aspect of practicing for their big show.

“You do get pretty nervous before a show ... but it is really fun to be in musical theatre,” he said. “I just love the whole thing.”

The Phantom Tollbooth Jr. takes the stage at the North Peace Cultural Centre Friday night at 7:30 p.m.

Tickets are available at the North Peace Cultural Centre.

Love is a gamble

North Peace Secondary School brings Guys and Dolls to the stage

ALEISHA HENDRY

ahendry@ahnfsj.ca

All the glitz, glamour and gambling of 1940s New York City will be brought to life by local students this weekend.

The North Peace Secondary School production of Guys and Dolls features plenty of music, illegal gambling, and even a little romance.

Teacher Nadine Aulin chose Guys and Dolls as a way to change things up.

"I'm quite fond of the music itself, I think it was a fun segue away from some of the Disney stuff and I wanted to see what other kinds of audiences we could get in Fort St. John into the theatre. I'm hoping Guys and Dolls will bring in a wide range of people," she said.

Guys and Dolls tells the story of a group of gamblers looking to find a location for a high stakes craps game. A bet is made to land the money needed to secure a location for the game, and chaos ensues.

The mastermind behind the game is Nathan Detroit, played by Alexander Collins. Nathan has two very different sides, says Collins.

"Nathan's kind of a funny guy, he's a bit two-faced in that he has a business persona and a personal persona," said Collin. "So when he's with his men, Benny and Nicely, and his hired guys, he's very stern and 'I only want things done when I want them done,' really conservative, but at the same time he's also really tender and loving to his fiancée even though he's incredibly scared of commitment."

Nathan's long-suffering fiancée Adelaide is played by Elan Miller-Jeannotte, who has to deal with Nathan's inability to commit, even though the pair have been together for 14 years.

"She knows that he's ready but he doesn't want to admit it, because he's so afraid of commitment because he's so into the craps game, she feels like she's coming second to his gambling," said Miller-Jeannotte.

In order to get the $1,000 needed to hold the craps game, Nathan makes a bet with Sky Masterson, played by Brenden Wan, a gambler who cannot refuse any bet.

"He's a very, very confident high stakes gambler, he loves to make bets for lots of money over the craziest things. He's never found anyone he's really loved, maybe his parents, but he's not found that one girl because he's a player," said Wan.

That all changes when Sky meets Sarah, the woman Nathan bets him to take to Havana.

How does it all turn out? You'll have to check out the show to find out.

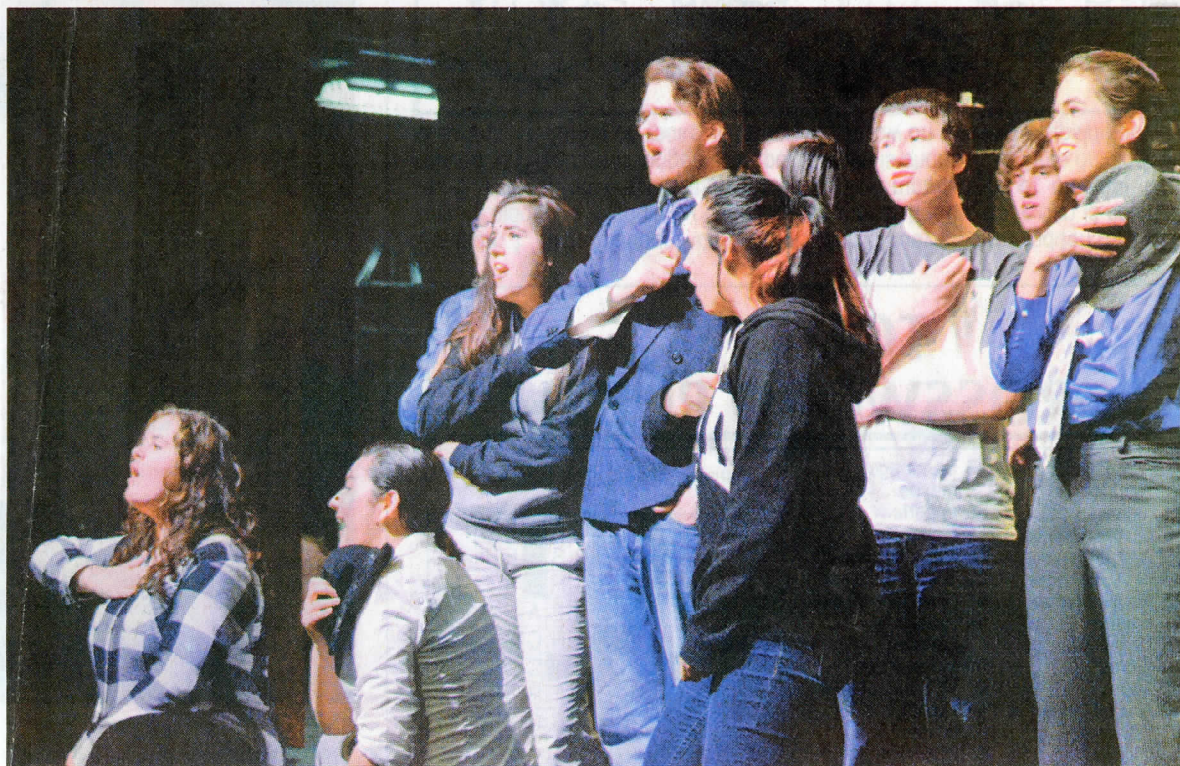

Guys and Dolls runs Dec. 2-3 and 8-10 at the North Peace Cultural Centre. For more information, call 250-785-1992.

ABOUT THE PLAY

Set in Depression-era Times Square, Guys and Dolls is about a couple of big city gamblers and the women who love them. It tells the overlapping stories of high-roller Sky Masterson, who falls in love with mission worker Sarah Brown, and lovable rascalion Nathan Detroit, engaged for 14 years to Miss Adelaide, a headliner at the Hot Box Club. Nathan runs a famous floating crap game, and an ongoing plot line involves his quest for a safe place for the game as Adelaide continues her quest to convince him to marry her. Meanwhile, Sarah, mistakenly believing that Sky set up an illegal game at the mission, tries to fight her affection for the charismatic craps shooter.

A NOTE FROM THE PRINCIPAL

It seemed like a few short weeks ago that this talented group of actors, singers, and dancers started practicing for this production of Guys and Dolls. But it has been thirteen weeks since the start of school and this group has been hard at work getting ready for this day! Many hours of hard work, dedication and sweat have resulted in another outstanding production! North Peace has an amazing history of superb performances from the Music Theatre class. Tonight will be no different! Congratulations to Ms. Aulin and Mr. Price! Great productions start with great teachers! To the cast and crew - break a leg! To the audience - sit back and enjoy the show!

NADINE AULIN

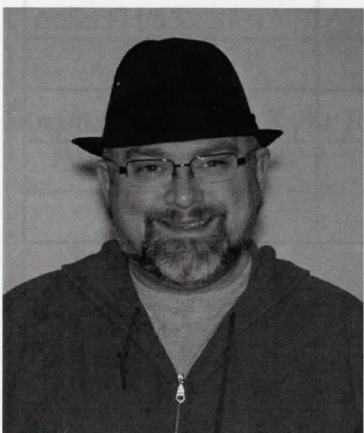

Director

Welcome to Guys and Dolls! Ms. Nadine Aulin is very excited to share her first NPSS musical production with you! Ms. Aulin has been involved in acting and directing since (before) she had a role in an NPSS musical production in 2005.

Without the tireless commitment from the students, those who got them to rehearsals, coworkers who helped create our vision, and a wonderful musical director, this production would not be possible. She would like to extend a huge thank you to everyone involved.

Finally, Nadine would also like to thank her toddler Liam for making rehearsals all the more interesting. She hopes to be involved in many more productions to come with her energetic child to keep the actors entertained!

DAVID PRICE

Music Director

Mr. Price has been involved with many productions, with Guys and Dolls being his eighth at NPSS. He looks forward to presenting this show to you, and blocking the view of most of the people sitting in the middle of the front two rows!

A special "thank you" goes to the entire Cast and Crew and Pit Band of Guys and Dolls, and especially to Nadine Aulin who has been such a pleasure to work with. Thank you's also go to Randy Pauls and the Administration Team of North Peace Secondary School for their great support.

David finally wishes to thank his wife and family for all of their wonderful support. He hopes you have a wonderful evening here at the show!

KYLA ROUBIE

Stage Manager

Kyla would like to start off by saying a genuine, heartfelt thank you for attending the High School's Guys and Dolls this year. This is Kyla's first Musical Theatre production and her first time with the responsibilities of stage manager. She is so excited to work with such an amazing and hard working group of people!

She hopes that you enjoy the work that she and her friends have put into this show and wishes you a great night!

NATHAN DETROIT

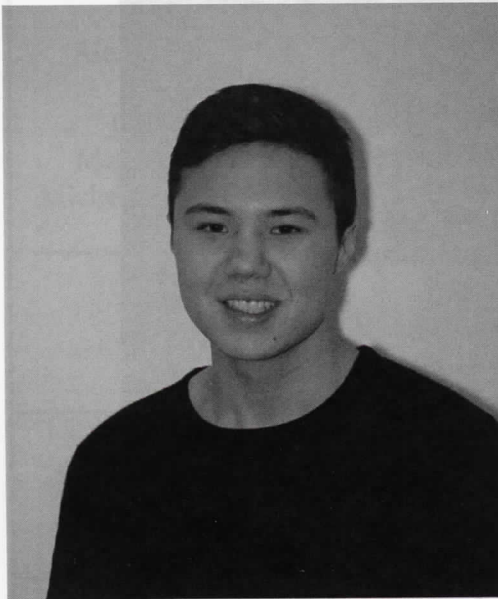

Alex Collins is an experienced actor, having been in ten shows prior to this one with his favourite being Mr. Banks in the NPSS production of Mary Poppins. Alex enjoys long walks, good food, old movies and is very excited to play Nathan Detroit in the NPSS production of Guys and Dolls. Alex would like to thank his mother Linda and his father Aron for teaching him to be confident and always be the best he can be.

"Lets make it great!"

ALEX COLLINS

SKY MASTERSON

Born in Fort St. John, Brenden is in Grade 12 and has had many roles in productions while growing up from school to school. Brenden has been in productions from High School Musical to North Peace's production of Mary Poppins last year. He has been performing in plays and musicals for the last 4 years, growing up with many of the actors who have been on stage with him every time. Some recent productions you might have seen him in could be The Laramie Project, Shrek The Musical, and Mary Poppins, all by North Peace over the last couple of years. Brenden loves watching everyone put in so much effort while making a play or musical come together; the feeling of having a finished product ready for others to come see is what really does it for him and many of the other actors as well. Brenden is looking forward to being in many more productions in the upcoming years and hopes to keep doing plays and musicals for a good long time. Keep an eye out for him!

BRENDAN WAN

MISS ADELAIDE

ELAN MILLER-JEANNOTTE

Elan is in grade 12 and has been on the stage since she was three years old. She started off with ballet, tap and jazz. Since the age of seven, she has been apart of competitive dance, performing various styles in the ballet, stage and contemporary disciplines. As well, Elan has appeared in many school plays throughout elementary and middle school including Anne of Green Gables, Under the Influence, and Step Up to the Plate. This is her second time being apart of the North Peace musical theatre class, as her first musical was last year's production of Mary Poppins. Elan would like to thank her class for their dedication and everyone else who contributed to making this a great show. She hopes everyone enjoys watching Guys and Dolls!

SARAH BROWN

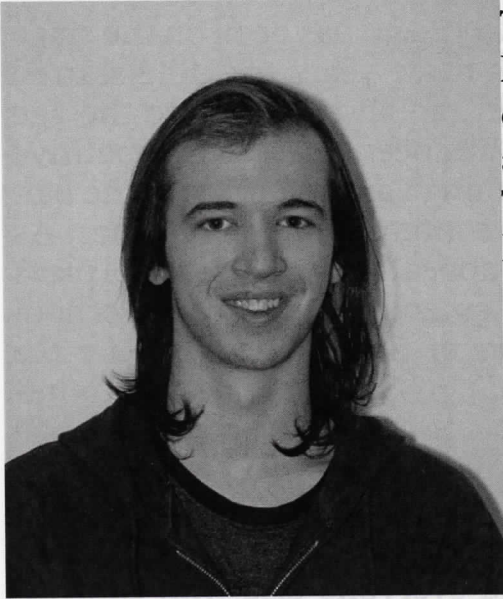

IRIS WENGER

This is Iris Wenger's first production and is very excited to be performing in front of a live audience. She has been singing since she was seven years old but did not sing in front of an audience until she was ten. In the future she hopes to go to school for optometry and possibly fall in love (but not with a gambler). Iris would like to thank Ms. Aulin for inspiring her to begin performing in Grade 8 but also the cute piano player that was the extra motivation. She would also like to thank Annie Peachy, Sharon Nyeste and Jordan Bourgeois for just being the most fantastic people ever. Finally, Iris wants to thank Jesus because he's pretty fantastic too. She enjoyed becoming friends and working with the other cast members and can't wait until the play next year to do it all again.

NICELY-NICELY JOHNSON

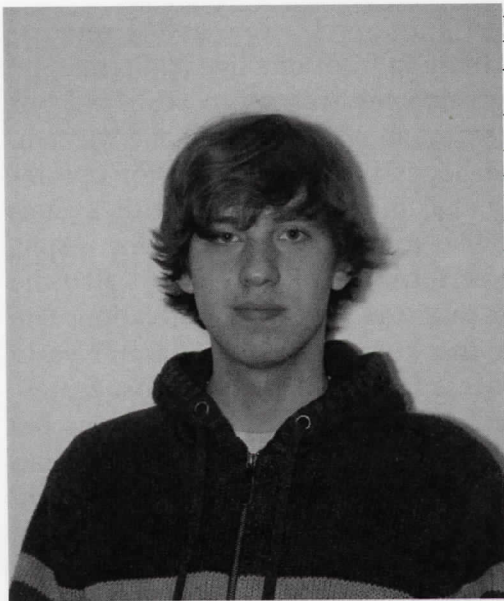

This is Tyler Robertson's second show at NPSS Musical Theatre. Being this is his second year in Musical Theatre, he was active and pleased to begin. Tyler joined Musical Theatre, because it helped him with all of his social skills. Tyler has improved quite a bit by being in Musical Theatre for a second year. This includes, making awful puns on stage, pointing out bad ideas, Rocking the Boat, and lastly, eating on stage. Let's not forget a hairstyle that was even worse than last year. Watch Tyler sing and dance as Nicely Nicely Johnson in Guys and Dolls.

TYLER ROBERTSON

LT. BRANNIGAN

Brandon Braun spends most of his spare time drawing, but he also loves acting. He tried out musical theatre for the first time last year, and he was very nervous. It was a lot more fun than he expected. You may have previously seen Brandon as a banker in Mary Poppins, and he's very excited to have a larger role this year as Lieutenant Brannigan. He hopes you enjoy the musical!

BRANDON BRAUN

BENNY SOUTHWEST

This is Tyler's 4th musical production. You may recognize him from the high school production last year Mary Poppins, where Tyler took on the role of Robertson Ay.

Tyler hopes you enjoy this year's Musical production of Guys and Dolls.

TYLER PAULS

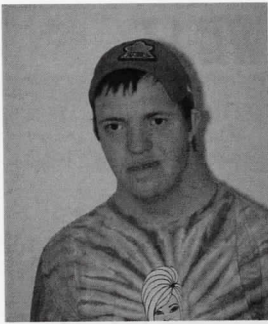

ARVIDE ABERNATHY

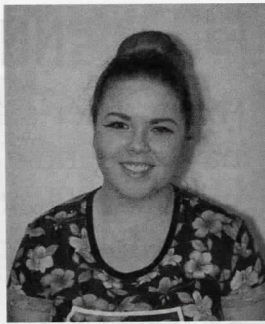

This is Annie Peachey's third show with North Peace Secondary. You may remember her flying across the stage in last year's Mary Poppins! You can look forward to also seeing Annie in Stage North's production of The Wizard of Oz this February. Although this is Annie's eleventh time on stage in a theatre production, the magical feeling has yet to fade. She has had a blast putting this show on this year and would like to thank many people for making this show possible. First and foremost, she would like to thank the stage craft crew for always being on the ball and working their butts off to make this show run smoothly backstage, despite their small numbers. She would like to thank her musical director Mr. Price, her dance choreographer Mrs. Mika, and her director Ms. Aulin for keeping everyone on task and making this show come to life. She would also like to thank her English teacher Mr. Harper for accepting late assignments with only a slight amount of disappointment, and all her other teachers for being incredibly understanding of the long nights and late assignments that come hand in hand with a theatre production. Lastly, she would like to thank Jesus because he's a pretty cool guy. She hopes you all enjoy watching the show as much as she enjoyed putting it on!

HARRY THE HORSE

JASMINE STANWAY

This is Jasmine's first theatrical production. She now feels that there is no going back after this, because once a theatre student, always a theatre student. Being able to portray a character in Guys & Dolls is a real privilege for her, seeing that this particular musical has always been a family favorite. She felt very honoured to be chosen for the character of Harry the Horse, seeing that they share a very similar mixed dry and sarcastic sense of humor. Though a very loud person in real life, Jasmine had to work on being loud enough to portray such a tough broad, so she thanks her friend and castmate Alex Collins for having sporadic shouting matches with her (this was equal parts helpful and entertaining) to get her character's toughness up to snuff. She would also like to shout out her other fellow castmates for being amazing and putting everything they had into this production, and to her stage manager Kyla for being awesome at her job. Lastly, she would like to dedicate this show to her shameless addiction to coffee, for getting her through the good and bad days. Furthermore, she hopes you enjoy watching this musical as much as she loved taking part in it, and warns you of the inevitable craving you will get for cheesecake once the show is over.

RUSTY CHARLIE

JESSICA DAVIDSON

Jessica is 17 and in grade 12. She has been a part of the performing arts for years, having been a dancer for 14 years, a competitive dancer for 7 years, and this being the 5th play she has been apart of in some way. Shows she has been involved with include Anne of Green Gables, High School Musical, The Pirates of Penzance, and Into The Woods. This year she is also in The Nutcracker, and helping out with The Wizard of Oz. Her plans after high school are to hopefully continue with the arts and get my Bachelor of Education for elementary children. Needless to say, she hopes everyone enjoys the show!! Happy Holidays!

ANGIE THE OX

Sharon Nyeste has been an avid lover of musical theater for three years now. This is going to be her third production, and she's extremely excited to be a part of it. Sharon hopes to develop as an actress and continue with acting in the years to come as she loves the energy and positivity that theater brings. Sharon would like to say thank you and dedicate her performance to her incredible family that constantly supports her and pushes her to be the best that she can be.

SHARON NYESTE

BIG JULIE

Julia is delighted to be performing as Big Jule in this years NPSS musical, Guys and Dolls. Julia is no stranger to the stage, this being the latest in the long line of production she has been in over the years. This is mostly due to the fact that she has been in plays ever since she could read. Julia would like to thank her friends and family for all their love and support they've given her during her hectic schedule. She would also like to thank her wonderful director Nadine Aulin and terrific musical director David Price for this amazing opportunity to challenge herself with a character so vastly different from who she is offstage. Julia would like to say that although this is her last year at NPSS, as far as acting goes, this is only beginning knock on wood. She hopes you enjoy the show as much as she has enjoyed being a part of it.

JULIA FUHRMAN

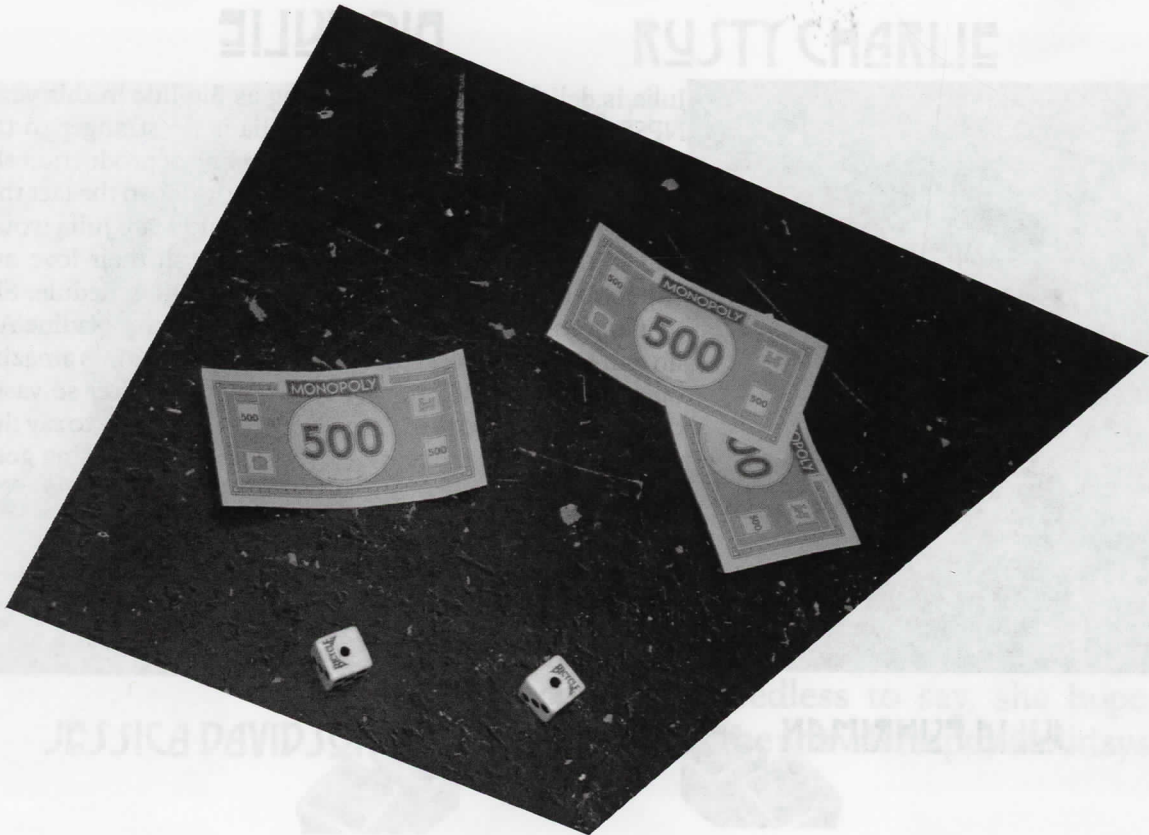

SARAH BROWN

Amy Bazin is a grade 12 student at NPSS. This is Amy's 3rd time performing with North Peace, also appearing as Pinocchio in Shrek the Musical, and Jane Banks in Mary Poppins. When she isn't dancing or rehearsing, Amy enjoys knitting, video games, and playing coasters. She would like to thank Ms. Aulin, Mr. Price and the entire cast and crew, all of her teachers and directors for bearing with her during the wonderful chaos of the last few months, Brenden and her parents for driving her everywhere, and Emry Mika for always being there for her. Amy hopes you enjoy the show!
