

Actors wanted Deep

NOV 4, 1977

Stage North, the Northern Lights College Theatre, is looking for actors and actresses to begin an extensive drama program in Fort St John.

Anyone over the age of 16 is welcome and no experience is necessary.

"We're looking for energy and enthusiasm," said Brian Paisley, drama instructor at Northern Lights College here.

"I'm sure there are a good many people in this area who would like to participate in the development of a new theatre. Now they have their chance."

The first step for the new drama program will be a series of acting workshops beginning on November 17. The course will continue each Thursday evening from 7 to 10 pm until December 15.

From these workshops, Paisley hopes to find a group of people who will be interested in producing plays for the public.

Plans for Stage North include the reconstruction of an old building into a small "studio" theatre.

"This will take place early in 1978," Paisley said. "What we have to find right now are people who are keen on acting and production so we can be prepared to present shows when we move into the new space."

Anyone wishing to register for the Stage North Acting Workshop has been asked to contact Allison at Northern Lights College at 785-6981.
